LONG LIVE PROTESTANTS AND LONG LIVE ITALY

So Alia Cried as He Passed Into Eternity—Alia Claimed That
His Home Had Been Ruined
By a Roman Catholic Priest.

Canyon City, Colo., July 15.—Calling down maledictions upon the Roman priesthood and shouting in Italian,
"Long live Italy; long live the Protestants," Giuseppe Alia, the murderer of Father Leo Heinrichs, was carried to the death-trap and exactly at 8:30 o'clock tonight paid the extreme penalty of his crime.

Sensational Scene.
Perhaps a more sensational and thrilling scene was never beheld by any of the sixteen persons present than the execution of this Italian mur-derer, whose cries and screams were only hushed by the automatic springing of the mechanism which forever silenced the tongue that cried for vengeance against those whom Alia had considered the destroyers of his home and happiness.

At 4 o'clock this afternoon Warden
Clegg, of the state penitentiary, through his interpreter, Antonio Sasso, a prison guard, read the death warrant to Alia. Contrary to expectations, the prisoner exhibited no emotion, and when the reading was finished, said:

"All right. I am ready to die now."
At 6 o'clock supper was served to the prisoner. Before eating, he divided it into five portions, saying that one was for his wife, one for himself and one each for his three children. He then ate with apparent composure and relish.

He Felt No Sorrow.
At 7 o'clock Guard Sasso came to him with the information that within one hour the execution would take place. Alia again said he was ready at any time. He further said he felt no sorrow whatever for having killed Father Leo. He was certain that Father Leo was the man he had been searching for for many months, and claimed that he had recognized the priest by a scar on the side of his face.

Alia said he had worked for Father Leo in Portugal, and was sure that he had killed the right man. Alia said he did not believe there was a God, for if so, he would not have been permitted to be in his present predicament. He said he found no fault with the law, but that the priest did wrong in breaking up his family.

Led to Execution.
At 8:30 o'clock everything being in readiness, the warden's assistants approached Alia's cell and led the condemned man to the execution house, where the black cap and noose were adjusted by the deputy warden. During this procedure Alia became frantic and shouted: "Long live Italy; long live the Protestants." Alia was placed upon the trap, Chaplain Blake, of the prison, uttered a short prayer, the dripping water of the automatic mechanism released the great weight, and at exactly 8:30 o'clock the body was jerked into the air.

Unfortunately, Alia's neck was not broken, owing to the slipping of the rope, and he died of strangulation. After nineteen minutes Alia's body was cut down, and he was pronounced dead.

Killed Priest at Altar.
Several months ago Alia murdered
Father Leo as the latter was administering the communion in a Roman Catholic church. Alia was kneeling at the altar rail and shot the priest as the latter offered the sacrament.

LITTLE BOY TO REGAIN HIS POWERS OF SPEECH

Last night at the Wesley Memorial hospital it was announced by the physicians that little Hiram Hill Jamieson, the 8-year-old son of Rev. C. A. Jamieson, superintendent of the Decatur Orphan's home, who was accidentally shot in the head with a revolver while on his way to Decatur Thursday evening, would probably regain his powers of speech. In spite of the earlier belief that he might never be able to talk again.

The passing of the pistol ball from temple to temple, and completely through the cerebrum of the brain, made possible the severing of the optic nerves or the serious derangement of nervous centers governing other senses.
For a while it was feared that the articulatory centers would be affected to the extent of rendering the little fellow thereafter a mute. This belief was upset when the boy spoke in different times in a disconnected way.
He is said to answer occasional questions, but still appears to be only semi-conscious. His eyes are said to be unaffected.

Rev. and Mrs. Jamieson have been almost constantly at the bedside of their little son.

ANOTHER DEPARTMENT TO COME TO ATLANTA

Means a Big Addition to the Local Fire Insurance World.

DAN B. HARRIS, MANAGER OF THE NEW DEPARTMENT

Two Strong Companies to Enter
This Field—Another Striking Recognition of Atlanta's Importance as a Fire Insurance Center.

Atlanta is to have another big southern fire insurance department, covering all the southeastern states, to be established September 1.

With its seven southern departments,
five general agencies, one home office,
and the headquarters of the Southeastern Underwriters Association, Atlanta is ranked in importance as a fire insurance center only by New York and Chicago. The new department, the creation of which is a distinct tribute to Atlanta's importance in this field of underwriting, will add greatly to the local fire insurance world.

Dan B. Harris, one of the best known fire insurance men in the south, president of the Southeastern Underwriters Association, and for twenty-seven years connected with the southern department of the Insurance Company of North America, the Philadelphia Underwriters, and the Alliance, headed by Captain Edward S. Gay, is to be the manager of the new department, which will cover the southern field for the Aachen and Munich Fire Insurance Company, of Aachen, Germany, one of the best known of old world companies, and the Security Insurance Company of New Haven, Conn., a leading eastern fire company.

New Company for South.
The Aachen and Munich is entering this field for the first time. Its United States headquarters, located in New York, is headed by Joseph A. Kelsey, United States manager. Its United States assets amount to $1,778,253, and its United States surplus is $244,645.
The assets of its home office are in the neighborhood of $10,000,000, and at San Francisco it paid $4,000,000 in losses from its home office without touching its United States assets.

The Security Insurance Company has assets of $2,075,650, and capital of $500,000. Its capital and surplus amount to $735,392.

The territory to be covered from Atlanta by the Aachen and Munich include the following seven states: Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, and Mississippi. From the Atlanta office the same states will be covered for the Security, with the exception of Mississippi.

Manager Dan B. Harris.
In Atlanta, where he has spent his life, in almost every Georgia town, to which he used to pay frequent visits, and to the fire insurance contingent generally throughout the entire southeastern field, no man is better known than Dan B. Harris, and all his host of friends will rejoice in this well-earned promotion.

Twenty-seven years ago he entered the service of Captain Edward S. Gay, then, as now, manager of the Insurance Company of North America, in the capacity of office boy. Step by step he climbed until he was appointed the first special agent of the department, which, in those days, required him to travel from Virginia to Texas. His work as special agent and adjuster were of such a character that in 1903 he was made assistant manager of Captain Gay's department.

As an indication of the esteem in which he is held by his associates, he has often served on the executive and other important committees of the Southeastern Underwriters Association.
President of this important organization,
and at their annual meeting in Atlantic City, last May, he was elevated to the office of president, which is the highest honor in the gift of southern fire insurance men.

What It Means to Atlanta.
The establishment of this new department means a great deal to Atlanta.
The companies will wish to do a large business, which will require a large and increasing office and field force.

surance Department.

TWO BADLY CUT BY JEALOUS MAN

Faust Dangerously Stabbed; Young Lady Was Cut.

ATTACK MADE BY PRINTER

Baton Rouge, La., July 15.—A. H.
Faust, private secretary to Congressman C. K. Fawcett, and former editor of The Baton Rouge Times, was dangerously stabbed tonight by Edward George, a printer. George also cut Miss Claire Bates, a bookkeeper, in the cheek and arm, when she attempted to protect Faust. Miss Bates had refused permission to George to enter the office of The Daily State, where she was at work.

Faust was sitting in the office when George rushed in and began stabbing him in the neck and head. Faust received three bad wounds before other men in the office could rescue him. It required three men to quiet George.
After they had cajoled him almost insensible, he revived and said he did not know why he had made the attack, and that he had not realized what he was doing. Faust afterwards said that George had tried to forbid Miss Bates from speaking to him, and that she had asked him not to leave the office, as she wished to keep away from George. The latter cut himself badly in the hand.

ten special agents, while the clerical

Well-posted insurance men say that ten million dollars per year is a conservative estimate of the amount of money handled through the Atlanta banks by the departments and general agencies located here—this, in addition to the business done by life and other insurance companies.

In addition to the home office of the Atlanta Home, and the headquarters of the Southeastern Underwriters Association, Atlanta now has the following fire insurance southern departments and general agencies:

Departments: The Royal, Milton Dargan, manager; Phenix of Brooklyn, H.
C. Stockwell, manager; Western Amer-

Captain Edward S. Gay, manager;
Hartford Fire and Citizens of Missouri; Eggleston & Prescott, managers; Pennsylvania and Fire Association, W. E.
Chapin, manager; and Queen, S. Y.
Tupper, manager.

General Agencies: Hamburg-Bremen,
W. F. Pattillo, general agent; Jefferson Fire, United Threnes's, New Brun-

of Pennsylvania, and Union of Penn-agents; German-American, and German Alliance, W. L. Reynolds, general agent; Sun of New Orleans, and Pala-agents; and London and Lancashire, R.

JOHNNY COMES MARCHING HOME

So Band Played When Kern Reached Indianapolis.

Ovation for the Nominee
Vice President Fairbanks Made Speech Praising the Democratic Candidate—Kern Deeply Touched by Welcome.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 15.—The non-partisan reception given John W. Kern, the newly nominated democratic candidate for the vice presidency, held in the court yard tonight on the candidate's arrival home from Denver, was as hearty and generous and spontaneous as the citizens of Indianapolis, regardless of politics, could make it. Fully 5,000 persons gathered in Delaware street and in the court house yard, and gave Mr. Kern a hearty welcome and cheered him enthusiastically.

The candidate addressed the crowd for about twenty minutes, following his presentation by Charles W. Fairbanks, vice president of the United States.
Four years ago, Mr. Kern presented Mr.
Fairbanks to a big non-partisan gathering under similar circumstances.

The crowd which received Mr. Kern was in a cheering mood. It cheered Mrs. Kern and William Kern and John W. Kern, Jr., when they came on the stand. Republicans applauded as loudly as the democrats.

"When Johnny Comes."
Mr. Kern arrived in the city a little after 6 o'clock tonight, and was received in his home by a large procession. He arrived at the court house with Vice President Fairbanks a few minutes after 8 o'clock.

When the carriage, in which rode Mr.
Kern and Vice President Fairbanks, arrived, the band started "When Johnny Comes Marching Home." This was the signal for a tumult of applause, and when the two distinguished men alighted they were greeted vociferously.

Mayor Hookwater extended a greeting
as Mr. Fairbanks and Mr. Kern ascended the platform. Mr. Kern was warmly welcomed on the platform by prominent men. A few minutes later
Mrs. Kern, Miss Julia Kern and the children arrived.

Mr. Fairbanks, with a few remarks, presented Vice President Fairbanks. "We have met," the mayor said,
"to do honor to a fellow citizen who has brought honor to all of us."

Major Hookwater extended a greeting
as Mr. Fairbanks and Mr. Kern ascended the platform. Mr. Kern was warmly welcomed on the platform by prominent men. A few minutes later
Mrs. Kern, Miss Julia Kern and the children arrived.

Fairbanks' Lauds Kern.
Mr. Fairbanks said in part:
"Mr. Kern, I shall always remember with sincere appreciation the generous and hearty welcome extended to me four years ago. It is particularly gratifying now to me to be able to perform a similar office for you."

While we owe allegiance to different political parties, our differences have never disturbed our friendships or marred our personal relations. I admire you as a friend, neighbor, and fellow citizen, and rejoice with you in the great distinction which your party has conferred upon you by nominating you for vice president of the United States.
Here political partisan feeling often runs high. Our campaigns are usually waged with ardor on both sides, but we never fail to applaud our neighbor, though he differs with us, if he wins distinguished honors. We never withhold from him an expression of our neighborly appreciation.

"Your neighbors know that no matter how much men may disagree with your political views, they respect your ability as a lawyer, your eminence as an orator, your integrity as a man, and your uprightness as a neighbor, and your admirable life within the sacred circle of home."

Perhaps in all his career as a public speaker, John W. Kern never was received with more applause than he was tonight. Although tired and worn from his long trip, Mr. Kern was in good voice, and the crowd heard him distinctly.

Kern's Speech.
Mr. Kern said, in part:
"I would be much more or less than a man were I not deeply touched by the manifestation of your personal friendship and confidence which I have received."

OLD OAKEN BUCKET CHEERED BY "DRYS"

HIS CHARGE TRUE
SAYS TOM WATSON

Receives Corroborating Telegram From Alfred Henry Lewis.

ONLY A PARTIAL DENIAL

Thomas E. Watson yesterday reiterated the statement made in his speech in Atlanta last Thursday morning to the effect that Mr. Bryan had not voted for an ex-confederate soldier for speaker of the national house of representatives. In support of this, Mr. Watson has in his possession a telegram from the well-known journalist, Alfred Henry Lewis, declaring that Mr. Bryan made such a statement to him.

Mr. Watson passed through the city en route to Nashville, where he will speak at the Tennessee state convention of the people's party.

Lewis Corroborates Watson.
Mr. Watson stated to a correspondent of The Constitution that, before leaving his home in Thomson, he had received a telegram from a North Carolina editor in which it was stated that Mr. Bryan claimed that he did vote for the ex-confederate soldier as candidate for speaker.

Mr. Watson wired Mr. Alfred Henry Lewis for proof, and the reply in a telegram was as follows:

"Bryan said to me of Crisp-Mills fight, 'I don't think I care to face old-soldier element along the river platform of having voted for ex-confederate. Will send particulars by mail.'"

"It will be noticed," said Mr. Watson, "that Mr. Bryan merely claims he voted for an ex-confederate for speaker; it may be that Mr. Bryan means voting in the house, while Mr.
Lewis means voting in the caucus."

Has Not Denied Statement.
"It is quite significant that in the debate last night Mr. Bryan has not denied the statement attributed to him by Mr. Lewis."

There is no journalist in America, who has a higher standing than Alfred Henry Lewis," continued Mr. Watson,
"and until Mr. Bryan positively denies that he did use the language which Mr. Lewis says that he used to him, I would feel at liberty to continue to make that point on Mr. Bryan."

"It is inconceivable to me," said Mr.
Lewis, "that Mr. Bryan could have manufactured such an utterance. He had no motive to do so, and the remark made by a young congressman—a native of Illinois—constituted a serious charge composed of ex-union soldiers, was not unusual."

"Mr. Lewis published this charge against Mr. Bryan in 1896, and it has not been denied so far as I ever heard."

Mr. Watson entertained a party of friends informally at luncheon, among his guests being Judge J. K. Hines, Dr.
J. W. Lee and Mr. George S. Traylor.

He spent the greater part of the afternoon in his office in Temple Court, where many of his friends called to see him.

NUMEROUS CANDIDATES FOR HEAD OF THE TICKET

Refusal of Seaborn Wright to Ac-

Platform.

Columbus, Ohio, July 15.—"The Old Oaken Bucket" caused a wave of enthusiasm to roll over the national prohibition convention today. It was sung by the Massachusetts delegation, which carried a standard ornamented by a water wagon, and bearing an oaken water bucket as pendant.

The delegates were quick to see the appropriateness of the standard, and soon the hall was echoing with the strains of "The Old Oaken Bucket."

The Indiana delegates came in with a deafening yell, proclaiming themselves as Hoosiers and against license high,
and license low, and equally opposed to local option, but declaring themselves to be squarely for national prohibition.

The yeil ended: "That's U. S., Indiana."

The convention worked under a temporary organization throughout its two sessions and adjourned until tomorrow without hearing a report from the committee appointed to select its permanent officers. In fact, little was accomplished today beyond naming the various committees and receiving the reports of the committees on rules and credentials. There were no contests before the latter body, and its report, as well as that of the committee on rules, was largely perfunctory.

The committee on permanent organization will report tomorrow morning, and Professor Charles Scanlon, of Pittsburg, one of the numerous candidates for the presidency, will be named as the permanent chairman.

Who Will Head Ticket?
The presidential nomination is still open, and there has been no marked concentration in favor of any candidate.
It was agreed early today that the nomination could be had by Seaborn Wright, of Georgia, if he would express a willingness to accept it.

The name of Joshua Levering, of Maryland, who was the nominee in 1896, has been prominently mentioned.
James P. Tracey, of Detroit, is making an energetic canvass, and sentiment is steadily growing in favor of his nomination. The Illinois delegates are pushing Daniel R. Sheen, of Peoria.

"The friends of Robert H. Patton, of Springfield, Ill., temporary chairman of the convention, are rapidly increasing, and a movement in his behalf took tangible shape when he concluded his address at the first session of the convention today."

WANTS MR. SMITH TO GIVE REASON FOR FIRING JOE

Mr. Johnson of Jasper Introduces Resolution to Make Governor Talk.

HAS OMITTED TO DO SO IN MESSAGES TO HOUSE

Believes That Suspension Was Unauthorized by Statute and Was Unconstitutional—Motion to Delay Anti-Pass Bill Killed.

A lively session was held by the house of representatives yesterday morning, there being about three features to it. The convict lease system took up a part of the time, a motion to indefinitely postpone the anti-pass bill of Senator Borne, made by Mr.
Hall of Bibb, was defeated, and Representative Johnson of Jasper introduced a resolution to ask Governor Hoke Smith to make a report to the legislature why he suspended Hon.
Joseph M. Brown from office as a railroad commissioner.

There was something like two hours consumed in discussing the convict lease system. Mr. Hall of Bibb started the argument by introducing a resolution to take the place of the one adopted by the house on Tuesday. He tried to get a reconsideration of that resolution, but he lost it by one vote.
He was fought all the way through by Mr. Wright of Floyd and Mr. Candler of DeKalb.

The most sensational thing to happen, and that which has been looked for ever since the legislature convened, was the introduction by Mr.
Johnson of Jasper of a resolution to call upon the governor for a report about the dismissal of Joseph M.
Brown.

Resolution Presented.
His resolution is as follows:
Whereas, On the 21st day of August, 1907,
the governor suspended Hon. Joseph M.
Brown from the office of railroad commissioner, basing his action upon an alleged right conferred by code section 1115 of the code of the state of Georgia; and

Whereas, said code section requires that the governor "shall report the fact of such suspension and the reason therefor to the next general assembly;" and

Whereas, The suspension from office of a public officer of this state without notice and at a time when his term of office would expire by operation of law before he could be heard, is tantamount to a removal from office without notice and without the right to be heard, and involves grave questions both of constitutional law and of public policy; and

Whereas, The questions thus presented are of sufficient moment to deserve the thoughtful attention of the general assembly and ample time should be allowed for their full and fair investigation; and

Whereas, The session is now well underway, the governor has sent two messages to the general assembly and there seems to be no good reason why he should longer delay to report to the general assembly as required by said statute; Therefore be it

Resolved by the house of representatives, the senate concurring, That the governor be and he is hereby respectfully requested to report as soon as practicable to the general assembly the fact of the suspension of the Hon. Joseph M. Brown and his reason therefor, to the end that a full, fair and impartial investigation may be had in the premises.

have a report on the dismissal of Joseph M. Brown, Mr. Johnson of Jasper said:

"The governor has already sent two messages to the general assembly, one his annual message and the other a special message relating to the University of Georgia. The annual message is presumed to contain a history of his administration during the past year, together with such recommendations touching legislation as he sees proper to make; and that is logically the place for the report concerning the suspension of the Hon. Joseph M. Brown."

"But the subject was not mentioned in his annual message, although it occurs to the ordinary citizen that this act was the most momentous in its consequences, especially to himself, of any official act since the adjournment of the general assembly. The session is now well under way, and there seems to be no good reason why this report should be longer delayed. The governor is finding time to make educational speeches throughout the state, surely it is not asking too much that he find time to obey a plain requirement of the statute."

"This matter ought not to be side-tracked by waiting until near the end of the session, when it is too late to be devoted to its consideration. An important principle is at stake, and a precedent, big with possibilities, may be set."

"The fact that Hon. Joseph M. Brown has been elected governor, and thus been so to speak vindicated by the people, cannot relieve the governor or the general assembly of any part of their duty in the premises. The election of Mr. Brown was a credit alike to the intelligence and sense of justice of the people of Georgia; but their chosen representatives cannot evade the duty, however unpleasant it may be, of declaring by their verdict whether the reason for this suspension was sufficient. Speaking for myself, from a careful study of the statute under which the governor claims the right to make this suspension, I am thoroughly convinced that, irrespective of the reason therefor, the suspension, at the time it occurred, was not authorized by the statute; that the statute contemplated no suspension which in effect amounted to a removal without notice and without the right to be heard, and that, even if such a suspension was authorized by the statute, the same would be unconstitutional as denying to the officeholder due process of law."

A pretty big fight was waged when the house took up the Borne anti-pass bill, introduced last session, for its third reading. Mr. Hall of Bibb opposed it on several grounds, and declared that he given "fair play" by having his own bill put before the members for a decision. He moved for an indefinite postponement of the bill. The motion was lost by a vote of nays 93, ayes 58. Should the ayes have won, the anti-pass bill would have been lost. As it stands now, there is a chance this session to pass an anti-pass bill.

Mr. Hall, in taking up his argument against the Borne anti-pass bill, took occasion to rip the present railroad commission up the back, and said some pretty sarcastic things about their exception to the pass order, allowing John A. Bejerman privileges over every one else in the state.

The Morning Session.

When the house opened yesterday morning the first thing of importance to come up was the introduction of a resolution by Mr. Hall of Bibb, to have the speaker appoint a committee of seven from the house to investigate the board of prison commissioners in regard to leasing the state convicts. Mr. Wright of Floyd objected to the introduction of the resolution.

Mr. Butts of Fannin, in a point of personal privilege, said: "Mr. Speaker, yesterday in a speech here I had occasion to refer to a daily paper in Georgia. That paper did not do me justice, and I want the clerk to read what that paper said about me."

A copy of The Georgian was read.

Mr. Butts continued: "Mr. Speaker, I want to say that the Georgian's report was certainly not correct."

He explained that he made no statement about The Georgian being a "Yankee paper," but referred to the article by Charles Edward Russell in Everybody's magazine. He stated he was willing to break up any wrongs in the leasing of state convicts.

Mr. Hall of Bibb, asked for a suspension of the rules to introduce his resolution, but lost it by one vote.

Mr. Barrett of Stevens, moved to reconsider house bill No. 37, by Messrs. Dykes and Slater, which was passed. The bill provides a penalty of $25 on telegraph companies for mislaid telegrams. The motion was lost.

Mr. Foster of Cobb, moved to reconsider the passage of the bill to provide pensions for every Confederate veteran's widow. His motion was carried.

Mr. Hall of Bibb, moved to reconsider a resolution of the house passed Tuesday to investigate the prison commission. Mr. Hall said:

"It is in the power of this house to impeach those officials. We should investigate the charges, and punish the officers, if guilty, before this house adjourns. If these charges are true, we must impeach. There is no use of dilly-dallying. Let's go to it."

Mr. Wright of Floyd, objected to Hall's resolution, and asked the house to favor the senate resolution of Tuesday. He argued that a reconsideration of the resolution of Tuesday would be delaying the investigation of "taking back track." Mr. Wright, of Richmond, also opposed a reconsideration of the resolution of Tuesday. Mr. Candler, of DeKalb, also made a speech favoring the senate resolution.

The motion to reconsider upon being put was lost by a vote of 34 to 86.

Anti-Pass Bill Again.

The anti-pass bill of Senator Borne, of the thirty-fourth, was put on its third reading. Mr. Hall, of Bibb, then took the floor and attacked the present railroad commission for putting in the anti-pass order and for allowing John A. Bejerman a pass, putting the order into effect.

Mr. Alexander, of DeKalb, replied to Mr. Hall's attack, and said that the railroad commission were "grossly unfair." Mr. Hall answered that he did not think he deserved the remarks made about him by Mr. Alexander, but had only related what had really happened. The motion of Mr. Hall to indefinitely postpone the bill was put. It was lost by a vote of nays 93, ayes 58.

TWO MORE DETECTIVES ON THE POLICE FORCE

There were two features that characterized the monthly meeting of the police board yesterday afternoon in the commissioners' room at police headquarters. One was a motion by Commissioner James W. English to inquire into the advisability of securing automobile patrol wagons for the department, and the other was a recommendation by Assistant Chief of Police E. L. Jett that two more detectives be added to the detective department.

The police board put the matter of an increase in the detective department up to Chief Jennings, and it is understood that he will appoint two men subject to the approval of the board. The increase will be from ten to twelve men.

Chief Jennings will report on advisability of automobile patrol wagons.

is to be the permanent chairman of the convention, tonight say that they feel greatly encouraged over the progress their candidate is making.

The committee on resolutions met immediately after the adjournment of the morning session of the convention, and delegated the task of writing the platform to a subcommittee of five, composed of Samuel Dicks, of Michigan; Quincy L. Morrill, of South Dakota; Eugene Chapin, of Illinois; Frank Sibley, of Arizona, and Elias C. Swallow, of Pennsylvania.

Forensic Platform.

When the subcommittee made its report at 9:30 o'clock tonight, the platform had been in greater part arranged, and it is expected it will be accepted as it has been drawn. The principal plank to be incorporated will be about as follows:

There will be a declaration in favor of extending suffrage to women; the electing of senators by direct vote of the people will be favored, and a ringing declaration will be made against the existing revenue laws which permit the issuance of licenses to saloons.

The platform will also declare in favor of the amendment of a graduated income and inheritance tax. A demand will be made that a proper amendment to the constitution of the United States, prohibiting the liquor traffic, be submitted to the people. This is intended to meet the question raised in congress at the last session that federal regulation of liquor traffic is unconstitutional when it extends beyond interstate traffic. This plank, together with that denouncing the revenue laws that permit the issuance of licenses, is expected to cover the attitude of the party on the questions of license and direct prohibition.

The sentiment of the party, wherever heard expressed, is opposed to local option or anything but the complete wiping out of the liquor traffic. The establishment of postal savings banks will be favored. A declaration will be made in favor of government regulation of corporations engaged in interstate commerce. The creation of a nonpartisan commission for the purpose of studying and recommending needed changes in existing tariff schedules will also be urged. The platform will also contain an arraignment of official tolerance in large cities of the country, of the social evil, and traffic in girls.

Witham and Gordon Named.

The national committee met tonight and selected all of its old officers as follows:

Chairman Charles R. Jones, Evansville, Ind.; vice chairman, A. G. Wolfenbarger, Lincoln, Neb.; secretary, W. G. Calderwood, Minneapolis; treasurer, Felix T. McWhorter, Indianapolis.

The members of the new national committee, so far as selected, include the following southern men:

Arkansas, H. Brady, Henry Patton; Florida, John T. Coffey, Francis T. blood; Georgia, W. S. Witham, George Gordon; Louisiana, Nathan D. Woodbury, Lyman B. Merritt; North Carolina, J. M. Templeton, Thomas P. Johnston; Tennessee, J. B. Chesapeake, T. P. Cook, Charles J. B. Crawford, W. C. Swengel; Virginia, James W. Bonley, G. M. Smith.

Alabama and South Carolina have not yet named their committees.

In calling the tenth annual convention to order, the president, National Chairman Jones said that since the prohibition party was organized, thirty-six years ago, the movement has spread, until now fourteen million people live in territory which has outlawed the alcohol. He pronounced an extensive increase in the prohibition vote this year, and said the campaign to be conducted will ring through the country, and "reverberate like a battering ram."

Chorus of Amens.

As Rev. Mr. Eaton prayed for the blessing of the firm "when there shall be no drunkards and no drunkard-makers" there was a chorus of amens from the delegates.

The call for the convention was followed by the announcement by Chairman Jones that Robert H. Patten, of Springfield, Ill., had been selected as temporary chairman.

Mr. Patten held the attention of the audience throughout the speech, and at times moved his hands to great enthusiasm. As he proceeded, driving shaft after shaft at the other national parties, he was cheered again and again.

He Took Off His Coat.

"Take off your coat," and "hit 'em again," cried voices from the delegates, and the speaker was interpreted with "amens." The speaker took off his coat and then paid his compliments to the late Herman Raster, of Illinois, author of the "personal liberty" plank of the 1872 republican platform. He read a letter from Alan H. Ellis, attorney general of Ohio, author of much of the republican platform of this year, declaring that he could find nothing in the sixteenth plank, "inconsistent with republican doctrine."

"Caught with the goods," shouted some one in the audience.

Hot Shots for Bryan.

Passing from the republican party, Mr. Patten spoke of that very talkative man from Lincoln, and said that in the last sixteen years Mr. Bryan "has championed everything loose under the sun in the way of a political issue, except the prohibition question." This statement was greeted with a chorus of "shame! shame!" coming from the audience.

At the conclusion of Mr. Patten's speech the state delegations announced their members of the convention committees and the membership of the national committee.

Just prior to the conclusion of the morning session an address of welcome to the delegates was made by Mayor C. A. Bond, of Columbus, the response for the convention being made by William P. F. Ferguson, of Chicago.

SALVATION ARMY WANTS OLD CLOTHING DONATED

The officers of the Salvation Army are making an appeal for any old summer clothing which has been laid aside. The request for the cast-off garments comes to The Constitution from Captain Coy as follows:

"The Salvation Army desires to call to the attention of the people of Atlanta the great need of summer clothing during the hot weather. Very many of the city's poor are wearing heavy, uncomfortable clothing simply from being unable to buy lighter garments. So please look over your stock of clothing and let us call for the surplus you don't need. You have many garments, shoes, etc., that you will never use again. Don't put them away in a closet or close for the months to destroy. Let the good that remains in them be of service to some one. Also remember we can use the papers and magazines. Our telephone are: Bell, 2960; Atlanta, 2265.

ATLANTA MAN FOUND GUILTY

Jacksonville, Fla., July 15.—Otis D. Smith, a young white man, must die on the gallows for the murder of his sister, Cora Belle Smith, a few weeks ago. This verdict was rendered today in the circuit court, after a hard fight for the young man's life.

Witnesses told of cruel treatment to the girl both in Jacksonville and Atlanta, and of various threats made against her life. The date of the execution has not been set.

GREAT BRITAIN DOUBLE WINNER

London, July 15.—The gold medals went to Great Britain, France and Sweden as the winners of the medals of today's events at the Olympic games. Great Britain was a double winner, having won the gold medal in the 100 yds. race and the 200 yds. race.

When Kern Welcomed Fairbanks, it was understood most fully that this great demonstration has the slightest political significance. Four years ago, how glad I was to take part in the exercises at the home of Mr. Fairbanks when he returned from his convention bearing the same honor which I now wear.

"And a little later, when the election occurred (and when he had been elected by a majority that has never yet been counted), within twenty-four hours after I had gone down to defeat under a plurality of something like 82,000, I arose from the ashes of defeat and made a speech of congratulation to my victorious friends."

"I want to say to you here tonight, and I want all to hear and understand that, whether you vote for me or not in November, I love you just the same. All I ask of you and I am sure my friend here (indicating the vice president) will join in the request is that every voter study the issues before the people from the standpoint of patriotism, that he inform himself as to the right or wrong of the questions at issue, and then when you have made up your mind thus intelligently and patriotically, as is your duty as a citizen, then, with the strength of American manhood, go and deposit your vote for the right, as God gives you to see the right, and we will abide by your judgment as expressed at the polls."

"I thank you." (Cheers and applause.)

SPEER APPROVES FINDING OF THE STANDING MASTER

Mount Airy, Ga., July 15.—Judge Speer of the federal court, today passed a decree approving the finding of the standing master in charge for the southern district of Georgia, J. N. Talley, in the lumber rate case brought by members of the Georgia Saw Mill Association and others against the railroads. It was made on the intervention of the Ocmulgee Lumber Company. Under Judge Speer's decree, the circuit court of appeals and the supreme court of the United States, the advance of 2 cents per hundred on all lumber shipped from the southern states to Ohio river points and beyond, is the first actual payment the defendant railroads will make. They do not longer resist the decree, and the sum paid on the first intervention amounts to $9,878.64. There are several other interventions to be acted upon.

witnessed from the time I alighted at the station this afternoon until the present hour. I may be defeated at the polls (Cries of "Never—No—No, No!"), but if so, that is not a killing matter, because I have become accustomed to that; but if I should go down to defeat in November, the memory of what has occurred here tonight will amply repay me for whatever toll may be my lot between now and November, and the fact of the great assemblage, attesting your loyalty and friendship to me, I will bequeath to my children as a memory more precious than any other on the face of the earth, or all of the wealth of the world.

"And tonight, I will try, with God's help, to wear that honor worthily, wear it in such a way as to bring neither discredit nor dishonor on my party, or my native state, or this beautiful city which has thus honored me on this occasion. I am not vain enough to believe for a moment that the nomination tendered me, given me by the national convention of my party, was due to any merits or ability of my own, but rather to the situation and merits of Indiana."

HONEST FOLKS NOT IN DANGER

Kern Says Democratic Platform Menaces Only Dishonest

TALKS OF CORPORATIONS

Capital Honestly Invested and Corporations Honestly Conducted Have Nothing to Fear from the Democratic Party.

Chicago, July 15.—John W. Kern, democratic candidate for the vice presidency, arrived here today from Lincoln, Neb., on his way home from the Denver convention. He announced that national headquarters would be opened soon in this city.

Mr. Kern was accompanied by Thomas Taggart, chairman of the democratic national committee; Grey Woodson, secretary; National Committeeman Greene, of Rhode Island; and others. The party left at 1 o'clock this afternoon for Indianapolis, where his townsmen have prepared a fitting welcome for the vice presidential nominee.

In an interview at his hotel, the vice presidential nominee declared that "confidence" would restore the open factory to the unemployed of the country, and that "honest corporations had nothing to fear from the democratic party."

Honest Corporations Need Not Fear.

He professed to see in the anti-injunction plank of the democratic platform a conservative suggestion in line with the procedure of the state courts in many states, and he explained that the reason why the democratic party will this year decline corporations contributions is because "no corporation has the power to make contributions to any campaign unless it is so stated in its charter."

"For myself," he said, "I hope to be able to convince the country that capital honestly invested and enterprises that are being honestly conducted within the law have nothing to fear from the democratic party. The purpose of the democratic party is to build up and encourage business, not to destroy it. We will make it plain to investors in legitimate enterprises that they may so invest without danger of molestation from the party. In legislating for the regulation of corporations, such distinction will be drawn between those corporations which are lawful and those which are lawless. We recognize the fact that there are sections of this country which must be developed by railroads. It will be the policy of the democratic party to encourage investors to help build them. We recognize that there is much idle capital which ought to be invested in new enterprises to give employment to labor; it will be our policy to encourage all such enterprises which are run according to law."

MOB SEEK NEGRO WHO BEAT GIRL

Girl's Injuries May Prove Fatal—One Negro Was Killed.

Beaumont, Texas, July 15.—A posse of over 1,000 men are scouring the woods in this vicinity in an effort to capture an unidentified negro who attacked and beat into insensibility a 13-year-old white girl, Ada Bell Hopkins, inflicting injuries which may prove fatal. It is the intention of the mob to inflict quick punishment. An aged negro was mistaken for the one sought and shot to death. The mob burned two negro amusement resorts and threaten to destroy other buildings occupied by negroes in the vicinity of the crime.

MORE STILLS IN GEORGIA UNDER WATER WAGON LAW

Two Hundred and Ninety-Seven Wild Cats Captured During Year.

That sixty-five more illicit stills have been destroyed within the division made up of Georgia, Alabama and Florida within the fiscal year ending June 30 than during the year preceding is shown by figures compiled within the United States internal revenue offices in Atlanta.

During the fiscal year ending June 30, last, two hundred and ninety-seven illicit stills were discovered and broken up in Georgia, while one hundred and forty-eight were destroyed in Alabama, and twenty-six were killed in Florida, the three states indicated forming the internal revenue division.

The total number of stills killed by the revenue officers under J. H. Surber, revenue agent in charge of the district shown, was four hundred and seventy-one.

Destroying these 471 stills the revenue officers put out of use $36,000 worth of property.

THIRTEEN MEN ARE ARRESTED

Serious Trouble Is Probable in Strike of Alabama Miners.

Birmingham, Ala., July 15.—Thirteen men, mostly negroes, were brought to the county jail this morning by deputy sheriffs from Sayreton, several miles from the city, and charged with trespassing after warning, carrying concealed weapons, and assault, are docketed against them, all the result of the strike of union miners in the Alabama coal fields. There has been considerable disturbance at Sayreton and other places. Two men were shot and slightly wounded at Sayreton so far, Jerry Merriweather, white, a union man, and Joe Westmoreland, a negro, non-unionist, being the wounded men.

William R. Fairley, Alabama member of the national executive board, and J. R. Kenner, district president of the union miners, headed a delegation appearing before Sheriff Higdon this morning protesting against Deputy Sheriff Huggins at Sayreton, declaring he had interfered with a meeting held by the miners. A warrant was sworn out against Huggins, and he was placed under bond. The delegation also entered protest against deputies throughout the county, several hundred armed men being on duty. Adam Fow, a former leader of the union men, who recently defied the union and accepted a contract in the Wythe mines in the western part of the county, has gone to Indian Territory to take up a position for a while.

The mines started up this morning, but the forces are greatly reduced, as on yesterday. The situation, according to reports being received at the sheriff's office, is becoming most interesting, and serious trouble is likely to break out at any moment. The union miners have begun the distribution of provisions among the strikers.

Killed by Dirt Excavations.

Macon, Ga., July 15.—(Special.)—Frank Morris, a colored laborer, was instantly killed by an excavation in a ditch on Adams street this morning, where employees of the Macon Gas Light and Water Company were laying large pipes for the water mains. The negro was hardly more than six feet in the dirt when a sudden fall of earth caught him and mashed out his life before other laborers could rescue him. Coroner Young held an investigation, which terminated in a finding that the man met death by accident.

S.S.S. BEST TREATMENT FOR CATARRH

The entire inner portion of our bodies is covered with a soft, delicate lining called mucous membrane; this is kept in healthy condition by the nourishment and vital vigor it receives from the blood. So long as the circulation remains pure this membrane will be healthy, but when the blood becomes infected with catarrhal impurities and poisons this inner lining of the body becomes irritated and diseased, and the unpleasant and serious symptoms of Catarrh commence. There is a tight, stuffy feeling in the nose, watery eyes, buzzing noises in the ears, often slight deafness, difficult breathing, etc. The disease cannot be reached by external treatment, though such measures afford temporary relief in some instances. S. S. S. cures Catarrh by cleansing the blood of all impurities and poisons. Then rich, pure blood circulates through the body, the inflamed, irritated membranes heal, the discharge ceases, headaches are relieved and every symptom disappears. Catarrh, being a disease in which the entire blood circulation is affected, can only be cured by a remedy that goes to the very bottom and removes every particle of the impurity from the blood. And this is just what S. S. S. does. Book on Catarrh and any medical advice free.

THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

TAG TAX BILL ON ITS MERITS

Hard Fight Predicted When it Comes Up in the Senate.

The agricultural committee of the senate again met on yesterday morning for the purpose of considering the Martin tag tax bill. An effort was made to have the bill so amended that it would apply for one year only, but by a vote of 6 to 5 the amendment was defeated.

Those in the committee room who spoke earnestly in favor of the bill urging its passage and endorsing the work which is being carried on by the agricultural schools were Senators Deen, Willford and Brock.

These senators contended that from this source was the only hope for agricultural education in the state, and since the schools were now ready to be opened, that the funds for their operation, by all means, should be supplied.

Senator Weaver opposed the measure, and stated that while he was not opposed to agricultural education, he was opposed to the raising of the funds for the operation of the schools by this method—that the amount sufficient for their operation should be appropriated out of the general treasury of the state just as the funds for all other schools were raised.

The bill was placed on the calendar yesterday, and in its regular order will be brought up and placed before the senate on its merits.

Even though the committee report is unfavorable to the passage of the bill, it is freely predicted that on the floor of the senate there will be a determined fight, and in all probability the measure will pass the senate and become a law.

A prominent member of the upper branch of the legislature stated on yesterday afternoon that he could not understand why the members of the committee were opposed to the bill. He stated that they must not understand the provisions of the measure, because the only plan was to increase the tag tax from 10 cents to 25 cents, which would be paid by the manufacturer.

He said that since this was the only possible way to raise funds to meet the immediate demands of the school, the matter resolved itself into a question of loyalty on the part of the senate to agricultural education in the state.

The people of the state are intensely interested in the outcome of the measure and will welcome a favorable action of the senate on the bill.

BURTON KILLED BY WALKER.

Alleged Intimacy of Burton and Walker's Wife the Cause.

Seima, Ala., July 15.—Gus Burton, a justice of the peace, was shot to death by Selke Walker at Minter today, the trouble being the result of alleged intimacy between the deceased and the slayer's wife.

Walker used a shotgun loaded with buckshot, and fired twice in close range. Death was instantaneous. It is reported that Walker, with three brothers, is barricaded in a log cabin, and are defying arrest. Officers from here are leaving for Minter.

Yeates Goes to Serve Term.

Macon, Ga., July 15.—(Special.)—Jim Yeates left Bibb county jail this morning to begin his life sentence upon the state prison farm. His last fight was an end in the state court of appeals yesterday and this morning orders came to have the man transferred to the state prison farm. This means that a remarkable fight against a term has been lost and Attorney John R. Cooper has been baffled at every turn. The case has gone all through the state courts and to the United States supreme court. Yeates killed the town marshal of Donaldsonville and was given a term of ten years for voluntary manslaughter. He later escaped and gave up again and got a new trial. It resulted in a term for life.

Not satisfied with having things go his way you occasionally find a man who wants to clinch them and make them stay his way.

SHRINERS GO TO LOUISVILLE

Kentucky City Gets Next Conclave—No Shrine Allowed to Macon.

St. Paul, Minn., July 15.—The Imperial council of the Ancient Arabic Order, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, today elected officers and decided to hold the conclave of 1909 in Louisville, Ky. Four cities were contestants for the gathering of next year, Seattle, Louisville, Atlantic City and Detroit. Selection was referred to a committee, which reported in favor of Louisville. The report of the committee was adopted this afternoon.

In accordance with precedent, Frank C. Roundy, Imperial potentate, was not a candidate for reelection, and the officers below him were each advanced a step, leaving only the lowest office, outer imperial guard, open to contest.

Following are the new officers: Potentate, Edwin L. Alderman, London, Iowa; deputy potentate, George L. Street, Richmond, Va.; chief rabban, Frederick A. Mines, Los Angeles, Cal.; assistant rabban, J. Frank Treat, Fargo, N. D.; high priest and prophet, William J. Cunningham, Baltimore, Md.; oriental guide, William W. Erwin, Wheeling, W. Va.; first ceremonial master, Jacob T. Barron, Columbia, S. C.; second ceremonial master, Frederick R. Smith, Rochester, N. Y.; marshal, J. Putnam Stevens, New York; captain of the guard, Henry F. Nodding, St. Louis; outer guard, Charles F. Ovenshire, Minneapolis; treasurer, William S. Brown, Pittsburg; recorder, Benjamin F. Rowel, Boston.

The council granted a dispensation to Macon, Ga., to organize a new temple in that city. The new temple will be known as Nile. Dispensations were refused to Macon, Ga., Dawson City, Yukon and Cairo, Ill.

While the imperial council was in session, twenty-five Arab patrols were giving exhibition drills at Lexington hall. The competition feature of the contest was eliminated by the announcement of Imperial Potentate that no prizes would be given. The attendance was restricted to Shriner and their women relatives and friends.

The business sessions of the imperial council ended today, but many of the Shriner will stay until Saturday.

ADVERSE REPORT MADE ON DEPOSIT INSURANCE

Other Bank Bill of Senator Deen Will Receive Favorable Report.

Two very important committee meetings of the senate were held yesterday afternoon. The one was on constitutional amendments and the other was the banking committee.

The constitutional amendment committee listened for three hours to testimony and arguments pro and con in reference to the creation of the new county of "Georgia."

Judge Hawkins, of Ashburn, in Turner county, led the fight for the new county, while W. T. Burkhalter, of Reidsville; J. V. Kelley, W. G. Rountree and Mike Bird, of the same county; A. M. Deal, R. Lee Moore and H. B. Strange, of Bulloch county, and Colonel F. H. Saffold, of Emanuel county, led the fight in opposition to the creation of the county. An array of evidence was introduced on both sides of the question, but the committee postponed taking any action on the bill.

Banking Committee Takes Action.

The banking committee passed a motion to report the Deen bill, requiring deposits to be insured with recommendation that it do not pass. The other measure of Senator Deen, which has been endorsed by many bankers and the public generally, will receive a favorable report at the hands of the committee. It is understood that the committee, instead of passing the bill with the large number of amendments, a new bill will be drawn up, embodying all of the amendments, and the original measure will be passed by substitute if the report of the committee meets with the approval of the senate.

The general judiciary committee was announced to meet, and several were present to be heard, but it was impossible to secure a quorum of the members of the committee. This morning at 9 o'clock the committees on corporations and education will hold important meetings.

CHARGES WERE INTIMATED.

Consequently Application for Appropriation Was Held Up.

Roma, Ga., July 15.—(Special.)—At a meeting of the council last Monday night an application was made by Professor Ingraham, principal of the Roma colored public schools, for an appropriation to aid him in the industrial department which was being conducted by himself and wife. The council was rather favorably disposed to it and appointed a committee to confer with the school board as to whether the amount could be spared from the general school funds.

Last night at a meeting of the school board the matter came up, the committee was present and a discussion was had. It was found that charges of a rather serious nature were being intimated against Professor Ingraham, the nature of which has not yet leaked out, and a committee of three from the school board, was appointed to investigate the whole negro public school system and report back to the board. Some sensational developments are expected.

LODGE OF SORROW HELD.

Elks at Dallas Mourn for Those Who Have Gone Before.

Dallas, Tex., July 15.—Today's session of the Elks grand lodge, the 12th annual session, was devoted to the "Lodge of Sorrow," the impressive service of the order in commemoration of the Elks paying tribute to those who have died. Henry A. Melvin, chief justice of the supreme court of California, was among the speakers.

Following the lodge of sorrow Percy Clay, of Denver, read a report on the question of destruction of the alk which was brought up in the Philadelphia grand lodge meeting. No final action was taken.

It is always a heavy day with Taft. He is announced as the author of a book whose very title weighs a ton.

Rumored that Root will take the stump for Taft. But what does Muldoon know about knockout blows in politics?

The Georgia weekly editors will now inspect the state they have helped to build, by hard licks—in and out of season.

There is still a limelight chance for Mr. Fairbanks. He is rich enough to pension the Hoosier authors of the campaign songs.

The republican platform may be good to run under when it rains, but Taft and "Sunny Jim" may get cold feet from standing on it.

They are placing Kentucky night riders in jail. This must be joyful news to the other prisoners, who will now have a chance to burn out.

We read of the armed mother-in-law in New York. But if the mother-in-law should say "search me," where would you find the man to attempt it?

We break the peaceful solitude of Mr. Fairbanks to remark that Taft's tail legs can't compete with his in a graceful straddle of the round republican elephant.

This isn't the first time Gainesville has opened her gates to the Georgia weekly editors, and the spring water there is just as fine as ever, and spangs on the palate, after a juicy barbecue, just as of old.

After all, the difference is in the value placed upon the station one occupies in life. A Billville, Ga., author, who digs wells for $1 a day, says he would be willing to fill the world with words at a flat rate of $30 per ton.

Certainly Louisville fills the bill as a Sabbath summer resort. Editor Watterson says:

"Upon the hottest Sunday of the year two Louisville detectives found a chest full of beer in a chili parlor. How'd you like to be a pair of detectives?"

CHOOSE ELECTORS BY PLURALITY.

While it is the general expectation that Georgia will, in accordance with past custom, give the democratic presidential electors a majority vote in November, the possibility of a plurality only presents a peculiarly interesting situation.

The Constitution has called attention, in connection with the forthcoming conference between the state executive committee and the state's democratic electors, to the fact that under the Georgia law successful presidential electors must receive a majority of the vote cast in the state.

Not another state in the union imposes this requirement. All others provide that electors shall be chosen by plurality vote, the wisdom of which is apparent, particularly in states where the vote is much divided among three, four or five presidential tickets.

It is possible Georgia may not be confronted by the emergency this year, yet it cannot be denied there is a chance of it.

In the event the democratic electoral ticket in this state should be given a plurality only in the November election, it would become necessary under the Georgia law to call an extra session of the general assembly to name presidential electors for this state.

Such an emergency is quite undesirable, both from a standpoint of expense to the state and of political expediency.

There does not appear to be any valid reason why Georgia should not adopt the plan now followed by all the other states, and by legislative enactment provide for the selection of electors by plurality vote.

There could be no objection from democratic sources, for Georgia can be accounted democratic, as it has always been. There could be no reasonable objection from opposition sources, because it would take any possible selection of the presidential electors out of the hands of a certainly democratic body.

There is nothing that the present Georgia law accomplishes except to muddle the situation and put an unnecessary expense upon the state, in the event of the failure of any of the tickets to receive a majority vote.

By proper enactment, which could consume but a short time at the present session, the general assembly may, therefore, relieve what may become an embarrassing situation, if not this year, at some time in the not very distant future.

DOING A VALUABLE WORK.

Since its organization, Georgia's state board of health has been a constructive body; it has built gradually but surely toward definite accomplishment.

But its work of greatest apparent value is just now reaching full fruition. In its preparation and free distribution of the treatment for hydrophobia and diphtheria it has placed itself in line with important forward medical movements of proven worth and effectiveness in the relief of humanity.

The state board now has under treatment twenty-four hydrophobia patients who are making excellent progress and will, at the expiration of the required twenty-one-day limit, be pronounced cured. The board has arranged to provide, upon application, similar treatment in diphtheria cases, whenever the occasion may arise.

With timely application to the state board of health, and the careful following of instructions, there is no reason why either of these diseases should progress to fatal termination.

The valuable and progressive step which the state board has taken in the application of these important discoveries of medical science has been accomplished upon the small appropriation from the state of $3,500; in practical results its real value cannot be computed in dollars and cents.

As other similar medical discoveries reach the point of demonstrated effectiveness, it is the purpose of the Georgia board also to make application of them.

At the same time the board is working quietly to effect the organization of county health boards throughout the state in such a manner as to secure local cooperation in combating the causes of disease.

The state board has not the funds to effect local sanitation, nor could the state be expected to provide them. But the state board can suggest, advise and supervise wherever there is occasion for it to do so.

In this way and through such local cooperation as can be secured, a great deal can be accomplished in the effective prevention of disease.

It is a work that deserves all encouragement the state can possibly give it, both through the enactment of adequate laws to enable it to carry out its good purposes and through the appropriation of sufficient funds to meet all reasonable and proper expenses.

TO BALE WITH COTTON BAGGING.

Farmers' Union officials in Mississippi have contracted with mills for 14,000,000 yards of cotton bagging, a sufficient amount to cover 2,000,000 bales of cotton. They propose to use it upon every bale of cotton of the present crop grown by union members in that state, and to encourage its use by others wherever possible.

Mississippi, of course, does not produce an annual crop of 2,000,000 bales, or anything like it, but so strongly is the union back of the movement to cover cotton with cotton that the Mississippi union officials are convinced of a cooperation in surrounding states that will demand even more of the new covering material than they have ordered.

The Mississippi union has passed the preaching stage and is determined to put this important and promising plan into execution.

There are two desirable results to be attained by the extension of this movement throughout the cotton belt: Cotton bagging, well-woven, will make a neater, trimmer and more substantial bale than it is possible to make with jute, and its general use will create a demand for the lower grades of the staple that will materially aid in strengthening and upholding the price.

Agitation for the use of cotton bagging is, in fact, a movement for better and firmer prices, in which both the cleaner bale and the consumption of lower grades will play an unquestioned and a material part.

The Mississippi union has undertaken a big task, but one in which it must receive the commendation and cooperation of the cotton producer generally, regardless of whether he is a union member, for it is his individual and personal interest that is involved.

The cotton grower has long looked forward to an extension of the uses of the lower grades of the staple as a desideratum which will remove them as a factor in bearing the market.

The opportunity which confronts him to put into execution the plan to create a material part of that demand should be eagerly and promptly seized.

Game Protection in Georgia.

The humble toad frog has been called the first assistant to the world's gardeners. The bull-bat, the dove, the martin and many of the game birds are now known to be the greatest friends of the farmer, and the wise farmer is beginning to realize the need of preserving these species.

Various states of the union have taken precautions to protect and foster their game birds. This is not done primarily in the interest of sportsmen, but as an aid to the farmers. The national government, through the department of agriculture, is earnestly preaching the lesson of bird protection.

In a most interesting address before the Georgia legislature last week, John H. Wallace, of Alabama, commissioner of fish and game of that state, told what had been accomplished by statute in Alabama. His remarks were probably a revelation to many of the lawmakers and impressed the fact that vigorous action along this line is imperative.

Georgia has a law limiting the number of doves which may be killed by any sportsman in one day, and has sought to limit the wholesale slaughter of this species, which has been going on in the past. We have also sought in a measure to protect other birds and the fish in Georgia streams, but the laws now on the statute books do not comprehend the full import of this subject of game preservation.

Rules for the Slush Gown.

In the Nashville Tennessean, Grantland Rice says that when the sheath gown comes into general circulation among the fairer sex of that city, the following rules will be posted:

"1. Not over 127 men shall be permitted to linger on one street corner for any duration of time exceeding five minutes."

"2. Any masculine person found carrying concealed opera glasses around his system shall be arrested and fined the full limit of the law."

"3. Audible comments on the scenery will be punished by thirty days with spoked glasses. Guilty party will also forfeit his right to stand on the corner."

"4. At the first sign of a breeze the audience is politely requested to shut off its lamps until the flaps are nailed down."

The Nashville Tennessean says: "With the appointment of Julian Harris to the chief editorship of Uncle Remus—the Home Magazine, 'The Little Boy' of the far-famed folkloric stories takes up the mantle laid down by his father. With a rarely combined executive and literary ability, there isn't the slightest doubt that the popular magazine is in the best possible hands of that Julian will make good in his new role and keep the publication up to its already high standard. With the irrefragable Don Marquis as an aide-de-camp to the newly-appointed editor, The Home Magazine is sure to expand with an increasing circle of readers."

I read the legislative bill

Of every val and bill.

Call but a dollar bill your own,

And life's worth living yet!

What One Has Missed.

Strickland Gillilan is one philosopher

Who is thankful for the troubles he has missed. He writes:

"A man may have had his grundle pushed down hard on the grindstone all through his youth, his prime and his ripper years, until we feel profoundly sorry for him. We wonder at his cheerful nature, at the unblinking courage with which he faces a world that has never been especially indulgent to him. Yet if we knew the inside of that man's mind we should feel differently. He knows what he has missed; we don't. Perhaps his knowledge he has of the undesirable things he has failed to be far overtops our knowledge of what he might have been that was commendable or compensatory."

His Day Off.

Judd Mortimer Lewis is off for a holiday,

And he sings about it in this fashion:

"I must swim and fish

In the twinkly creek,

And must ramble free

Where no one tells

Me the thing to do.

And the birds sing loud

And the skies are blue.

"And must lie at length

Neath a spreading tree

And list to the hum

Of the honey bee.

And the winds that whisper

And bend the boughs,

And the nicker of horses

And low of cows.

"I must go and go

Till I'm far away

Where unbrowned children

Are out at play,

I shall never die

Worth a mint of gold,

But I'll live and laugh

Till I do grow old!"

Letters from the People

The Agricultural Schools.

Editor Constitution: I am very much interested in agricultural education and the success of the district agricultural schools, as these schools, if properly fostered, put an education in the reach of every farmer's boy. I have, with much interest, thought of the different plans suggested. It seems that the opposition to an increase of the fertilizer tax is so great that we cannot afford to support these schools—the honor of the state is back of them.

The constitution of Georgia, section 8885 of the code of 1888, provides for a poll tax for educational purposes, not to exceed 10 per capita. I would suggest that this section be amended so as to raise the poll tax to $1.50 per capita and thus raise the money necessary for the agricultural schools. Such an amendment would bring into the state treasury at least $100,000, and this sum, in addition to the sum already received from the tag tax, would take care of the district agricultural schools.

To my mind this is the best way out of a bad dilemma. We must take care of these schools; we cannot afford to let them go down. Yours truly, S. S. MONK.

Tifton, Ga., July 14, 1908.

Demolish the Lease System.

Editor Constitution: When Miss Tarbell and others wrote up the convict camps in Georgia in foreign papers, we said it was a lie.

Developments now lead us to believe that the half has never been told. I hope you and your paper will do what you can to demolish the present iniquitous lease system.

Cut down all other appropriations and stop increasing the salaries of officials. Better the boys and girls should go uneducated than to keep the schools open at the price of hearts, souls, bodies, vitality and blood of the unfortunate criminals. Your friend and fellow citizen,

W. S. WITHAM.

TALKS ABOUT SOLONS

To Be Fitted.

(From The Savannah Press.)
 Atlanta, with the legislature on her hands, is more to be pitied than Washington when congress is in session, because Atlanta is dry.

Should Be Abolished.

From The Jackson News.
 The Georgia legislature is wrestling with the convict leasing problem. The only way to dispose of the question is to abolish leasing.

A Bad Predicament.

(From The Rome Tribune.)
 Alas, that "Dear Atlanta." It has the legislature and no whisky to drown its sorrow.

In Trouble Already.

(From The Valdosta Times.)
 It is a great pity that Georgia's "reform legislature" shows signs of the need of reforming so soon.

Amuses Chattanooga.

(From The Chattanooga Times.)
 The Georgia legislature will come to Chattanooga as soon as the Western and Atlantic railroad can get permission to haul them gratis. Funny, isn't it, when the legislature has to ask federal authority to ride on a railroad pass?

Just Cause for Complaint.

(From The Brunswick News.)
 Jacksonville certainly has a grievance against the Georgia legislature. That body is to visit Chattanooga and has never said a word about about the Florida boozeville.

Commendable Energy.

(From The Dawson News.)
 The legislature, in proceeding with its duty, and responsibility got down to work right away with an energy that is commendable. One of the first bills introduced seeks to require hotel keepers to put "skeeter" nets over every bed.

Better Than Free Passes.

(From The Danielsville Monitor.)
 The legislature is to have a free train to Chattanooga. This beats a free pass all to death. What about the Hepburn act?

An Unpardonable Oversight.

(From The Rome Tribune.)
 It has always been a matter of surprise that the Georgia legislature has never tackled so momentous a question as the chewing gum question. Such an oversight is unpardonable.

Different Kind of Bills.

(From The Anniston Star.)
 The Georgia legislature was planning to visit Chattanooga in a body, but for some unaccountable reason decided not to do so. If the Georgia legislators had made the trip it is safe to predict that they would have passed more bills in Chattanooga than will be passed at the state capital in Atlanta, but most of them would have been tens and twenties.

TUBERCULAR CATTLE

SOLD TO NEW ORLEANS

This Is the Charge Made by the New Orleans Board of Health.

New Orleans, July 15.—It was early this morning when the New Orleans board of health adjourned, after devoting a thorough investigation to the controversy which arose between Dr. E. A. White, its chief food inspector, and Governor Neel, of Mississippi.

The controversy grew out of a published interview with Dr. White, who charged that the Mississippi Agricultural and Mechanical College had disposed of cattle affected with tuberculosis to New Orleans dairymen. The board upheld Dr. White and directed a letter to Governor Neel to this effect. In this letter the board says the facts recited by Dr. White are borne out by the evidence in its possession, and that it is plainly shown that President Hardy, of the Mississippi college, sold tuberculous cattle to New Orleans dairymen, knowing the same to be diseased.

The board goes on further to say: "Dr. White has designated this as 'criminal.' The board of health does not believe that the word is too harsh or severe. A willingness to disseminate disease, whatever may be the motive or consideration, is essentially and intrinsically bad to designate the act as 'criminal' is a mild qualification—statute or no statute on the subject. We know of no Mississippi law which specifically declares against such acts, but we do know that Louisiana and federal laws have been violated."

ALBERT H. COX WRITES OF DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM

Hon. A. H. Cox, who was Georgia's member of the committee on resolutions of the national democratic convention at Denver, and who was a conspicuous factor in the making of the democratic platform as unanimously adopted by the convention, sends the following interesting communication to The Constitution in reference to the making of that platform.

"The committee on resolutions spent three days in deliberation upon the platform and submitted a unanimous report."

The platform has attracted much attention throughout the country, and the views of Mr. Cox on the incidents of its making will be read with unusual interest.

PUT CONVICTS ON THE ROADS

Delegations Oppose Lease System Before Committee of House.

At the joint session of the senate and house committee on penitentiaries held yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the capitol there appeared two delegations to oppose the present lease system of the state convicts—one from Bibb county headed by Judge A. L. Miller, and another from the Farmers' Union, headed by President R. F. Duckworth.

The delegation from Bibb county was composed of the following gentlemen: Ben L. Jones, John Long, J. W. Shindler, O. R. Tinsley and J. A. Flournoy. Judge A. L. Miller made a very pointed talk to the joint committee, and asked that state convicts be given to his county to work the public roads, instead of hiring them out as it is under the present system.

The Farmers' Union delegation was composed of the following: President Duckworth, C. T. Ladd, national attorney for the union; J. A. Drake, the state attorney; J. P. Campbell and J. L. Barron. Both President Duckworth and C. T. Ladd made long talks, both advocating the abolition of the present convict lease system.

The delegations claimed the sentiment of the people is against the convict lease system, and that they wanted the state convicts for the public roads.

Judiciary Committee.
 The house judiciary committee decided to introduce in the house a bill today to make the disfranchisement law effective on January 1, instead of November. This will mean a new disfranchisement bill. If this passes the old bill will be repealed. The committee meeting Joe Hill Hall, of Bibb, claimed that the disfranchisement measure was a serious question, and that no error should be made in its passage.

Educational Committee.
 The house educational committee decided to report favorably on a bill introduced in the house by Representative McMichael to allow the counties to levy a local tax to pay school commissioners a salary as high as $1,800 per year.

Constitutional Amendments.
 Before the house committee on constitutional amendments there appeared three delegations for the proposed three new counties. Cleveland county was represented by Thomas Eason and Minter Wimberly; Middle county, by Judge Roger L. Gamble and Colonel William Clifton, an Blackshear county, by Colonel William Kent, of Mount Vernon. F. H. Safford represented Johnson, Emanuel, Montgomery and Laurens counties, all of which are opposed to the creation of three new counties.

The committee decided to give the delegations the whole afternoon for argument. No decision will be given as to what report will be made on the bills until some time this afternoon.

Committee on Pensions.
 Several bills to pay pensions to widows of Confederate soldiers came up at the meeting of the pension committee of the house. Several of them received the favorable report.

SHE LIVED IN MORTAL FEAR.

Aged Mrs. Horner Tells Why She Shot Son-in-Law.
 Northport, La., July 15.—Mrs. Ella S. Horner, the aged wealthy woman, who is charged with the shooting of her son-in-law, Dr. James W. Simpson, at her home here last Monday, said in court today that she and her daughter had lived in mortal fear of the man for a long time. Until very recently, she said, they did not dare to remain in their home overnight, but went to the neighbors for shelter.

Mrs. Horner asserted that her daughter, Mrs. Simpson, had received from the doctor several threatening letters of recent date, in which he had demanded money. Supreme Court Justice Gaynor, before whom Mrs. Horner was arraigned today at St. James, held her for examination before the grand jury in $5,000 bail. Even if Dr. Simpson, who now lies in a dangerous condition in Roosevelt hospital, does not press the shooting charge against Mrs. Horner, District Attorney Furman, in charge of the case, said that he would prosecute it vigorously.

YEUELL DRAWS LARGE CROWDS

Evangelist at West End Tabernacle Employs Unique Methods.

Another large crowd was at the West End tabernacle, just off Howell park, last night to hear Rev. Herbert Yeuell, who is conducting the union evangelistic meetings, his subject being, "The Great Compassion of Jesus."

Though in his thirty-eighth year, the evangelist appears much younger, and while he preaches the "old-time religion," there is very little of the conventional clerical about him. Dressed in a natty summer suit, with negligee shirt and untied bow tie.

encumbered by a vest, outside the pulpit he would pass for an everyday business man.

And it is just this man that Mr. Yeuell strives to reach. He believes in appealing particularly to men, and services for men are a feature at all the meetings conducted by him.

A person in search of sensationalism would find only disappointment at the Yeuell meetings, for this is not a part of his program. "Only so far as no man's reason can be stirred without emotion do I appeal to the emotions," declared Mr. Yeuell. "If you stir a man's reason you will affect his emotions all right, but if you only appeal to his emotions there will be nothing left when the feeling has passed."

In meetings conducted all over the United States and England Mr. Yeuell has been very successful. His record for adult conversions has been remarkable, and in each instance the majority have been men.

Meetings will be held every night at 7:45 o'clock. Saturday night an illustrated lecture on St. Peter and Judas Iscariot will be given. Sunday services will be held morning and evening. There will be no afternoon service on account of the "Uncle Remus" memorial meeting to be held at the Grand.

SOLDIERS' HOME VISITED BY BOARD OF TRUSTEES

Held Quarterly Meeting Yesterday and Found Everything in Good Shape.

The trustees of the Confederate Veterans' home convened in quarterly session yesterday morning at the home building in East Atlanta. The membership except that from the first congressional district being in attendance.

The first congressional district, the governor not having named a successor, Colonel John H. Estill, who had been a member of the board since the creation of the home up to the time of his death, had no direct representative during the session.

Those present were: Hon. John Triplett, Thomasville, second district; Judge A. C. Pate, Hawkinsville, third district; R. A. S. Patten, Waynesboro, fourth district; W. S. Thomson, Atlanta, fifth district; General C. M. Wiley, Bibb county, sixth district; Hon. Charles D. Phillips, Marietta, seventh district; Hon. Thomas E. Winn, Greensboro, eighth district; Judge H. W. Bell, Jefferson, ninth district; Captain William H. Dunbar, Augusta, tenth district; and Judge A. P. Perham, Augusta, eleventh district.

Being a quarterly meeting, nothing but an inspection of the buildings and grounds and an examination of the accounts and of the papers and the quarterly reports of the officers were done. The members of the home all appeared in good health, excellent humor and declared themselves satisfied and well pleased with their abode.

TO HAVE HEARING ON EXTENSION

Representatives in Legislature Will Investigate Matter.

WILL HAVE MEETING SOON

Charter Amendment Advertisement Does Not Expire Until August 12, and It Is Proposed to Have Hearing Before Bill Is Introduced.

Acting under a suggestion from City Attorney James L. Mayson, the Fulton county representatives and the senator from this district in the legislature will meet at an early date to hear from all persons who wish to make statements in regard to the extension of the city limits as adopted by the general council of Atlanta.

The city attorney, in letters to the representatives and senator, points out the fact that the bill for the charter amendment to allow the proposed annexation of certain territory adjacent to Atlanta cannot be introduced in the house and senate until on or after August 12, as the legal advertisement of thirty days was not expired until that date. He states that the legislature will have only a few more days before adjournment after August 12, and suggests that time could be saved and the matter greatly expedited if the local representatives in the legislature could get together and hear from all those who are interested in the proposed extension before the bill is introduced.

Will Hold a Meeting.
 John M. Slaton, Robert B. Blackburn and Madison Bell, Fulton county's representatives, and Senator Dobbs, from this district, will hold a meeting some time before August 12 so as to know exactly what is wanted, and how the people stand, so when the charter amendment bill is introduced, they can take immediate action and thereby get the bill passed by both houses before adjournment, if they decide that the charter amendment should be granted.

In meetings conducted all over the United States and England Mr. Yeuell has been very successful. His record for adult conversions has been remarkable, and in each instance the majority have been men.

Meetings will be held every night at 7:45 o'clock. Saturday night an illustrated lecture on St. Peter and Judas Iscariot will be given. Sunday services will be held morning and evening. There will be no afternoon service on account of the "Uncle Remus" memorial meeting to be held at the Grand.

MR. HARRIS' HOME AS A MEMORIAL

Report of Subcommittee Is Adopted.

MEMORIAL MEETING SUNDAY

Executive Committee of the Uncle Remus Memorial Association Meets and Much Important Business Is Transacted. Other Committees.

The executive committee of the Uncle Remus Memorial Association met yesterday afternoon and adopted the report of the subcommittee recommending that the home of Joel Chandler Harris be purchased as a park and children's playground, and that a memorial fountain and statue be erected in the front yard.

The committee also decided upon a program for a memorial meeting at the Grand next Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock.

Mayor Joyner stated that he had been notified that those who had been securing donations for a monument to Mr. Harris were heartily in accord with the report of the subcommittee, and would turn all contributions over to the association.

On motion of Professor William M. Slaton, a committee of four was appointed to perfect a plan by which subscriptions could be secured. The committee is as follows: W. R. Joyner, F. J. Paxton, Dr. W. W. Landrum and Professor W. S. Slaton.

It was decided to add the name of Jerome M. Pound to the executive committee.

Dr. Landrum read a letter from J. N. Saussy, auditor of the Gulf Life Insurance Company, of Sylvester, Ga., in which some suggestions were made to the committee, chief among which was a plan for getting the cooperation of all the schools and colleges in the state interested in the movement.

On motion of Dr. O. C. Outley a committee of five was appointed to ascertain approximately what the home of Mr. Harris in West End would cost. Three members of that committee, Messrs. Outley, A. P. Stewart and S. B. Turman, were named, and the other two will be appointed later by the chairman.

The report of the subcommittee, which was unanimously adopted, is as follows:
Report of Subcommittee.
 To the Executive Committee, Uncle Remus Memorial Association—Gentlemen: Your subcommittee, appointed for the purpose of suggesting a suitable memorial to the memory of Mr. Joel Chandler Harris, begs leave to recommend that a memorial be erected to the memory of Mr. Harris on the site of the home of Mr. Harris on Gordon street, West End; a park and playground composed of the grounds surrounding the home, and of a memorial fountain on the front lawn facing the home; and that the committee be authorized to solicit contributions for the purpose of erecting the same.

Report of Subcommittee.
 The following is the program for Sunday afternoon, as far as it has been arranged. The subcommittee will fill out the program where the blanks occur:
 Invocation by "My Country, 'Tis of Thee."
 Address, "Joel Chandler Harris in His Home"—By Rev. Father Jackson.
 Address, "Mr. Harris as a Journalist"—By Charles J. Bayne.
 Song, "Nearer, My God, to Thee."
 Address, "Mr. Harris as a Patriot"—By J. M. Smith.
 Address, "Mr. Harris as a Brother of Humanity"—By Dr. W. W. Landrum.

EFFORT TO LOBBY SAYS OVERSTREET

Senator Says Outrage Was Committed on Water Bill.

THE MEASURE WAS KILLED

After Impassioned Speech by Senator Who Says Those In Favor of It Sent for Senators—Will Regulate Conduct of Telegraph Operators.

The major part of the morning session of the senate was taken up yesterday with a discussion of the bill by Senator Hayes, introduced by request, and which was defeated, providing that "power plants furnishing light or heat to the public shall have power to use water from near-by streams for condensing purposes, etc."

This measure applied directly to a situation near Columbus, where one company desires to run water through the land of another from the river, for several days, has been absent because of the serious illness of his father, occasioned by an accident. He reported the condition of his father as some better, but still critical.

On motion of Senator Hardman, the appropriation measures providing $5,000 for a library for the Georgia School of Technology, and $10,000 to repair the "old college" at Athens for a dormitory, were made special orders for the session of the senate this morning.

A resolution by Senator Steed that 1 o'clock each day should be the hour of adjournment unless otherwise ordered by the senate was adopted.

Session in Forenoon.
 The senate was called to order at 10 o'clock by President Ryan, who, for several days, has been absent because of the serious illness of his father, occasioned by an accident. He reported the condition of his father as some better, but still critical.

On motion of Senator Hardman, the appropriation measures providing $5,000 for a library for the Georgia School of Technology, and $10,000 to repair the "old college" at Athens for a dormitory, were made special orders for the session of the senate this morning.

A resolution by Senator Steed that 1 o'clock each day should be the hour of adjournment unless otherwise ordered by the senate was adopted.

Overstreet Charged Lobbying.
 Senator Overstreet made the concluding speech, declaring that the bill should be defeated, and in an impassioned conclusion said: "Even while we have been discussing this measure senators have been sent for by lobbyists, and it is an infernal outrage. I hope that the senate will not permit the bill to be tabled, but will kill it as dead as Hector."

The bill was lost by a vote of 21 to 16.

Senator Brock moved that the house resolution, by Mr. Shaw, of Clay, calling for an investigation of the charges made by the committee appointed to visit the convict camps, be taken up and acted upon. Under the rules, however, the senate held that the resolution should remain on the table for one day.

Senator Stephens' military bill was next taken up. Senator Stephens explained the provisions of his measure by declaring that the measure provided that all soldiers having served for five years at home or who had served any service in the Spanish-American war were recognized as members of the volunteer troops, and when a call came from the national government that enough troops would be left at home to protect the homes of the people.

The measure received the unanimous vote of the senate.

 Grand Junction, Col., July 15.—Steve Adams, member of the Western Federation of Miners, was acquitted of the murder of Arthur Collins this afternoon. DAVIDSON FACTION WILL SEEK ALABAMA COURTS

If Matter Cannot Be Rushed Through Republican Tickets May Be Left Off.

Birmingham, Ala., July 15.—At a meeting of the executive committee of the Davidson faction of the Alabama republican party, held here this afternoon, resolutions were adopted authorizing the chairman, Julius W. Davidson, to secure the services of attorneys to go to the courts to establish the right to use the word "republican" on the tickets in the election, the Davidson faction claiming to be the first to have filed a certificate of party in the state with the emblem of arm and hammer. Smith & Smith, of Birmingham, and Judge Chilton, of Montgomery, will be employed, and if the matter cannot be rushed through the courts by the time the official ballots are prepared the republican tickets may be left off entirely in Alabama.

It is endorsed the action of the recent convention at Chicago and declared intentions of working for Secretary Taft and Sherman and J. W. Davidson was selected as campaign manager. It is hardly believed the matter can be gotten through the courts by November.

Blind Tiger Cases at Albany.

Albany, Ga., July 15.—(Special.)—A number of blind tiger cases in the city court of Albany are being watched with great interest. The first case was concluded late yesterday afternoon. The defendant was W. A. Leebster, a confederate veteran and for many years a resident of this county. The jury rendered a verdict of not guilty. Several other cases are to be tried during the week and the state will fight hard for convictions.

The house was cool and attractive with its decoration of foliage plants, handsome palms and ferns, with a mural decoration of amilax, forming a handsome setting for the ceremony and the reception which followed.

The ceremony was performed before a floral altar, Dr. Len Broughton officiating, and the only attendants were Miss Lilla Glor and Mr. James Daniel.

The bride was charming in her princess gown of soft white satin and duchess lace, with orange blossoms in her hair. Her bouquet was of bride roses and lilies of the valley.

Miss Glor wore a white batiste and lace gown, and her bouquet was of pink carnations.

One hundred guests were entertained at buffet supper, and punch was served.

FINE SHOWING BY GEORGIANS

Cracker Troops Receive Many Compliments at Camp Taft.

By Dick Jemison.

Camp W. H. Taft, Lytle, Ga., July 15.—(Special Staff Correspondence.)—Everything was bustle and confusion at Camp Taft from early morning until late Monday night. From the time the first company detrained at 4:30 o'clock until taps sounded at 10:15, every one was engaged in pitching camp. The official time has not been announced as yet, but it is learned that the First Brigade of Georgia was the quickest in detraining.

It is estimated that about 4,000 soldiers of the state militia are encamped here, not including the United States troops.

In being assigned to their various stations, the First Georgia brigade drew the juiciest plum, Brigadier General Clifford L. Anderson and staff are located on the summit of Snodgrass hill, and stretching out in the shape of a large fan are the regiments.

Yesterday the regular routine work was taken up. In the morning battalion close-order drills were practiced, each regiment having an "umpire" who was a regular army officer. The "umpires" assigned to the Georgia troops are as follows:

First Georgia, Major Charles H. Hunter, C. A. C.; Captain Samuel B. Arnold, First cavalry; Second Georgia, Captain George D. Moore, Twentieth infantry; Captain Albert E. Saxton, Eighth cavalry; Fifth Georgia, Captain Truman O. Murphy, Nineteenth infantry; Captain Reynolds J. Burt, Ninth infantry; two squadrons Georgia cavalry; Captain Francis J. Parker, Twelfth cavalry.

At the conclusion of the morning drills, the Georgia troops were complimented for their fine showing, and General Anderson was the recipient of many flattering praises as to the showing of the First Georgia brigade, and several of the umpires expressed themselves surprised at the wonderful showing, one of them stating "that Georgia should be justly proud of her troops, as it was exceptional that state militia ever turned out a battalion as fully equipped as the Georgia brigade was, the personnel of the infantry being complete, and, in addition, two full squadrons of horse and a field battery of artillery."

All in all, the Georgia troops at the encampment number 2,000, which is half of the troops of state militia in camp.

London, July 13.—The prince of Wales and his suite sailed from Portsmouth today on board the Indomitable, Great Britain's newest cruiser battleship, to attend the forthcoming fetes at Quebec in honor of the founding of that city three hundred years ago by Champlain.

New York, July 15—James Speyer, who sails today on the Adriatic on his annual European trip, has this to say about the business outlook:

"Everybody knows that the financial situation in Germany is improving during the last few months and I believe that it will continue to improve with confidence (which has been severely shaken) enough to enable the country to continue to be restored more and more, judging from the political outlook the country has at present."

"The present situation, therefore, ought not to be too much of a disturbing factor, the more so as the ill-effects of the war are not likely to be found the same favor with the people as they did a little while ago. The fact that the country has had the easier money and credit situation should have a favorable influence on the revival of business generally."

There is no need of anyone suffering long with this disease, for to effect a quick cure it is only necessary to take a few doses of

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy

In fact, in most cases one dose is sufficient. It never fails and can be relied upon in the most severe and dangerous cases. It is equally valuable for children and is the means of saving the lives of many children each year.

In the world's history no medicine has ever met with greater success.

7 MEN KILLED BY EXPLOSION

Gas Lets Go and Wrecks

Pennsylvania Coal Mine.

Pottsville, Pa., July 15.—Seven mine workers were killed, and ten others injured today by a terrific explosion of gas in the Williamstown colliery of the Summit Branch Mining Company, in the lower part of the anthracite coal fields. The mine was wrecked and set on fire. The dead:

JOHN REILLY.
ARTHUR HAWK.
CHARLES RICKERT.
JOHN WHITE.
ANTHONY PRELLA.
JAMES BOWMAN.
MICHAEL STAKUM.

The explosion occurred in No. 1 shaft of the colliery, and is believed to have been caused by one of the men lighting the gauge of his safety lamp just after an explosion of a shot which brought down a large body of coal.

The explosion shook the entire colliery. The work of rescue was immediately begun, and when volunteers were called for almost every man at the workings offered his services, which meant a hazardous trip into the burning mine. Near the foot of the shaft the injured were found, they having rushed toward the entrance, only to fall over unconscious. All of the dead were found a short distance from the shaft, battered and burned into an almost unrecognizable mass.

Physicians from Williamstown and nearby villages treated the injured, while a number of women volunteered their services as nurses. Several of the injured were removed to their homes after receiving temporary treatment, but others were in too serious a condition to be moved until tonight, and cots were provided for them. The doctors say three of the injured may die.

One of the injured was taken to the morgue, and it was not until an identification of the bodies was made that it was found that he was living. He was badly burned and battered, but will probably recover.

The fire in the mine will probably be extinguished before much damage is done.

The Williamstown colliery is operated by one of the companies controlled by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company.

Telephone Talks

No. 2.

PUTTING aside, for the nonce, the telephone instrument, its mechanical and electrical features, the telephone operator is the most important part of the telephone business. It is absolutely necessary for the telephone user to come into personal contact with the operator before the telephone can be used.

Both the telephone user and the telephone operator are human, and when human nature asserts itself, no matter who is right or who is wrong, there is presented a problem of no small proportions for the telephone management to solve. Our operators are young women, residents of this city. They range in ages from sixteen to twenty-five years. They have undergone a physical, mental and educational test, and have shown

Judge Reynolds says that "steam laundrying" is

JOINT DEBATE OF CANDIDATES TO STUMP STATE FOR POPULISTS

The South Carolina Senatorial Candidates Were Heard at Columbia.

Columbia, S. C., July 15.—(Special.)—The senatorial campaign party met in Columbia yesterday, winding up the first half of the round of counties of the state.

One of the features here was the attack on John P. Grace, of Charleston, on R. Goodwyn Rhett, also of the same city, and Mr. Rhett's reply. Grace made numerous charges against the mayor of Charleston, among others that he bolted the democratic ticket in 1896; that he favored snip subsidy; was the head of the "water-front trust" in Charleston, etc.

Colonel W. W. Lumpkin, a native of Georgia, but for some dozen years a citizen of Columbia, was well received in the city of his adoption.

Colonel George Johnstone, E. D. Smith, O. B. Martin and ex-Governor John Gary Evans also spoke.

At the beginning of the gubernatorial campaign Governor Ansel stated that owing to the duties of his office he was unable to attend all the meetings, preferring to remain in the executive chamber attending to the business of the state. Colonel L. Blease, Governor Ansel's opponent, has been using this as a lever to attack the governor and, from general reports received at this capital, has made some headway. However, the opinion is general that the governor will be re-elected by a safe majority.

Don't take any substitute—demand K. K. K. Flour.TRIBUTE TO THE MEMORY OF MAJOR S. M. MERRILL

Army and Navy Journal Publishes the Record of the Dead Chaplain.

The Army and Navy Journal publishes a tribute to the late Major Sherman Merrill, who died recently at Jasper and was buried at Marietta. The journal says:

"Major Sherman Merrill, chaplain U. S. A., retired, died at Jasper, Ga., June 25, 1908, after a protracted illness. He was born at old Fort Edward, N. Y., October 28, 1834, and was a graduate of Ripley college, Vermont, and of Williams college, Massachusetts. The honorary degrees of M. A., LL.D., Ph.D. and D.D. were conferred upon him by different colleges in the United States. He was a Royal Arch Mason for more than fifty years. Dr. Merrill descended from a long line of officers. His great-grandfather was a French army officer. Two of his great-grandfathers were American officers during the revolution, one of whom, Major Benjamin Fuller, of the New York Levies, received promotion for gallant and meritorious services. His grandfather Merrill fought in the war of 1812. Dr. Merrill was instrumental in raising the 177th New York infantry during the civil war, going to the front as chaplain of that regiment; as such he was present in several battles, in one of which he was severely wounded, and was ordered home and mustered out on account of disability. He leaves a widow, Mrs. Walton Merrill, and five daughters—Mrs. Shunk, wife of Major W. A. Shunk, Eighth cavalry; Mrs. Plake, widow of the late Lieutenant Plake, Twenty-second infantry, killed in action in the Philippines; Mrs. R. T. Sweet; Mrs. Lee Clinton, Tulsa, Okla.; and Miss Alice Merrill, Jasper, Ga."

IT IS SAID that "Fools are governed by humor and wise men by interest." Caprice does not make for success in business nor in any of the sterner and "really-worth-while" things of life, and our experience with the first-class is too limited for us to qualify as expert or even competent witnesses in corroboration of the fore part of the statement. As to the latter portion, in the matter of Printing and Lithography we have found the truly wise influenced by both principle and principal as well as interest—"principle" representing our motto, "The Best in Printing and the Allied Arts;" "principal" standing for our low prices; and "interest" describing our patrons' profits on the investment. The daily growth of our business indicates that the old law governing survival is still at work and that wisdom is on the increase. If you've not arrived, you're headed this way—and we'll look for your order today, today.
